

11:11 and the Multiplicity of Meaning

In recognition of today's date: 11-11, we look at this still ubiquitous phenomenon and its multiplicity of meaning for millions around the world.

As the quest to resolve the mystery of the 11:11 phenomenon continues, so do the interpretations. Why are many seeing this number so frequently but many others are not? Why does this master number seem to attach itself to a range of synchronistic experiences? Is there one universal meaning or many, depending on who is experiencing this phenomenon?

I checked in with some of my fellow colleagues – extraordinary researchers in the areas of metaphysics and consciousness to get their weigh in on what this ever-present number may signify.

Diane Brandon is an Integrative Intuitive Counselor & Intuition Teacher and says that she has been getting clients curious about the 11:11 phenomenon since the 90's. "11:11 and variations thereof may be a subtle, unconscious reminder of things that are coming and to attend, pay attention, and prepare in some way, while being on one's spiritual path." She goes on to say, "In general, I feel that it's a message from the Universe to pay attention – whether to be on the lookout for an upcoming event, to listen for messages, or to strengthen one's spiritual connection. Sometimes it may be a confirmation of one's spirituality or spiritual orientation or that one is on the right path – or a confirmation that these are momentous times spiritually and to pay attention to events for spiritual import.

To me, the beauty of the messages behind the phenomena being individual messages underscores the need to pay attention to one's inner voice and how one is guided, as opposed to looking for a one-size-fits-all meaning."

As Diane so clearly articulates, 11:11 may just be a spiritual wake-up call of sorts. We have definitely heard different variations of the spiritual significance of this master number in the past, but then the question arises, if we are all spiritual (at our core), then why are some recognizing this number as an integral quotient in their lives and not others?

Here's what she had to say from this perspective: "Perhaps back in the 90's some of this phenomenon had to do with confirming to people that they were on a good spiritual path or had a role to play. With the increase in occurrence in the past few years, my sense is that it has to do with these times. I started to feel a couple of years ago that it was even more important for people who would be facilitators to get on the path. It feels as if this is a time of clearing, opening of awareness even more, and some sort of preparation for shifts and changes that may be in the offing. Some people were saying back in the early 90's that in the future everyone (meaning spiritual facilitators) would be needed. There seems to be a consensus among some people that we're on the cusp of that time.”

The idea that some – maybe even millions have been called to be spiritual facilitators on this planet is intriguing. It seems evident that we are indeed on the precipice of a global, or even universal paradigm shift. Perhaps these spiritual catalysts, though previously unaware of their purpose in life and during these times have been given the signal to come into conscious awareness of that purpose through the 11:11 signal.

Throughout the course of my research on the subject of 11:11, I’ve surveyed a variety of individuals about their own 11 experiences, and then measured this against some of their individual characteristics. Clearly those who’ve acknowledged the 11 phenomenon in their own lives fell into *several different personality categories:

1. Tend to be spiritually inclined (not necessarily religious).
2. Have a pre-disposition or sensitivity to psychic (psi) phenomena in their lives.
3. Fall into a “youth” (12-18) category, both male and female; could be described as crystal, indigo, or “new” children.

(*Note that this does not preclude those witnessing 11:11 who do not fall into any of the aforementioned categories).

The latter category is an intriguing subject on its own – the idea of new humans coming to this planet, often able to demonstrate feats of intellectual, psychic and even physical prowess well beyond their years or that of their adult counterparts. The idea that some, if not many of these “new children,” a term I prefer to use, are also aligned with the 11:11 phenomenon may give us a clue as to the evolutionary significance of this number.

Interestingly, those youth that I’ve surveyed who see 11:11 (or variations of 11 like 1:11, 5:11, 9:11 and so on), seem to have a level of ease or a natural affinity to its presence whereby they are not necessarily questioning the frequency of the number, but rather accept it as a natural phenomenon or even a sort of celestial language. On the other hand, some of the older individuals (including myself) who synchronistically began seeing the number in their later years have found themselves a bit more perplexed as to the how and why these numbers are appearing, although many sense that the presence of 11 carries some aspect of spiritual or psychic import.
