

The Beginning of the End for Australian Freedom of Speech

A summary of the chilling new anti-terrorism/freedom of speech laws introduced by the Abbott Government in Australia this week. George Orwell must be rolling in his grave... again. "Under the National Security Legislation Amendment Bill (No. 1) 2014, anyone including, "journalists, whistle-blowers and bloggers" – who "recklessly" disclose "information" ... [that] relates to a special intelligence operation" will now face up to 10 years in jail for doing so.
