

Our Personal Paradigm: An Exploration of Biocentrism [VIDEO]: Robert Lanza

Biocentrism walks a close parallel line to Quantum Theory, and yet they are worlds apart from one another (pun intended) when it comes to where they stand in regards to things existing independently. In Quantum Theory, things only exist when they are being observed, while in Biocentrism; things exist independently and yet remain infinitely connected in the web of Consciousness.