

Ross Pittman

Ross Pittman is Founder and Chief Editor of Conscious Life News (CLN) and an Energy Healer. For 30+ years, he worked as a computer software engineer and manager, mostly in the aerospace industry. But, his day job was never his passion. Ross, who has been a spiritual seeker most of his adult life, got the idea for CLN while attending the Los Angeles Conscious Life Expo in February 2010. The event was jam-packed with attendees seeking knowledge on spirituality, health & wellness, longevity, and a myriad of other consciousness topics.

After witnessing this thirst for new age knowledge, Ross built the CLN website and began disseminating alternative, conscious, and inspirational news. He is incredibly grateful for the growth of the site (both content and traffic-wise) since its inception and the tremendous support he has received.
