Horoscopes Monday 30th April 2018

Aries 21 March – 20 April

A powerful focus in the topmost sector of your chart hints that this can be one of the better times for connecting with those who can make a difference to your ambitions or social standing. However, with a Full Moon in the intense sign of Scorpio you could be compelled to make a request that may seem a little forward. Nevertheless, if you don't ask you might regret it Aries.

Taurus 21 April – 21 May

With a Full Moon in your sector of relating, feelings can intensify, especially if there have been unresolved issues between you and another. It may be tempting to speak out, but then it could take time to feel at peace in each other's company once again. There is a very compassionate trend developing though, and this could enable you to talk to them with a view to resolving this.

Gemini 22 May – 21 June

It's possible you have dealt with a lot of pressure lately, and that even though things may be less frenetic, you could still feel on edge. This may be down to a potent lunar phase in your lifestyle sector and it could be a call to take things easy where possible. You could find that taking a break and allowing time to recharge enables you to be much more productive in general Gemini.

Cancer 22 June – 23 July

Today's powerful lunar phase coincides with some very soulful ties that could see you planning a mini-break. You might also enjoy reading about ideas that inspire you and boost your confidence. Your feelings can be compelling too, and you could feel moved to share them with someone. Are they ready to hear what you have to say though? If uncertain, bide your time.

Leo 24 July – 23 August

You may be fuelled by a desire to get on with those tasks that are the least appealing, just so they are out of the way once and for all. However, it may help to cut out any unnecessary activities, as a powerful lunar phase could bring unexpected events into the mix. Nothing major Leo, but you may find you have to scramble to resolve them while having your hands full with other matters.

Virgo 24 August – 23 September

Anything you set your heart on can be yours if you are willing to do what it takes to make it happen. With the Sun still angling towards sobering Saturn in your sector of creativity, you may be especially keen to explore an idea that could allow you to channel your natural abilities Virgo. It can take a while to get the momentum going, but once you do, there may be no stopping you.

Libra 24 September – 23 October

With a powerful influence in your money zone, it would be no surprise if you were ready for some retail therapy to soothe feelings that may rise to the surface. A small treat might be enough to do the trick. But if not, then buying something bigger or more expensive might not necessarily help either. If you do have time for a massage or a spa treatment, this could be even better Libra.

Scorpio 24 October – 22 November

With a Full Moon in your sign and the Moon later merging with upbeat Jupiter, you could go where your interests take you, no matter what the cost. You may be entering a phase where you are keen to explore new ideas and philosophies and to experiment with your creative talents. If you feel excited about such an opportunity to expand your horizons, then do go ahead Scorpio.

Sagittarius 23 November – 21 December

It is not necessary to have a purpose for everything you do Archer. If you feel like making time for a budding romance or a new friendship, then the presence of lovely Venus in your sector of relating encourages you to go for it. However, a potent influence in a secluded sector could also inspire you to enjoy some alone time by catching up on a novel or relishing a really good movie.

Capricorn 22 December – 20 January

There continues to be a lot of activity associated with your sign, so it would be no surprise if you felt overwhelmed. However, as you often enjoy a challenge, you may not recognize your limits and might instead decide to push on. With a powerful lunar phase on the cards today though, your horoscope suggests that taking a respite and enjoying some good company could do you so much good Capricorn.

Aquarius 21 January – 19 February

Although you may be optimistic, you are likely under no illusion about what can and cannot be done. However, today's lunation may encourage you to have a go regardless. As it takes place in the topmost sector of your chart though, you might find yourself in the spotlight, so it could be wise to tread carefully. Waiting a day or so can allow you to respond in a more measured way.

Pisces 20 February – 20 March

You may be brimming with thoughts about key opportunities, but might need to limit yourself to just one or two Pisces. With powerful energies on the cards, you could find yourself intrigued with various ideas. However, if you are to make the most of this time, then it helps to be consistent. Better still, consider waiting a day or so until you know what you really do want.
