

Horoscopes Thursday 14th June 2018

The Moon's tie to both eloquent Mercury and sobering Saturn can alert us to an issue that we may have difficulty discussing.

We may not feel like bringing it out in the open just yet, but these aspects can allow us to reflect on exactly why this might be. For your FREE Daily Horoscope Thursday 14th June 2018 please see below...

Horoscopes Thursday 14th June 2018

Aries 21 March – 20 April

You may become more aware of your latent talents, and ones you may not have utilized fully before. The present line-up suggests that you may be keen to explore them in more depth, and this could act as a restorative. And while you can't forsake key responsibilities, you could probably do more of what makes your heart sing. Indeed, doing so could prove satisfying on so many levels.

Taurus 21 April – 21 May

If you need to resolve a family issue, this can be the time to bring up the subject and encourage further discussion. If key issues are involved, then present influences suggest dealing sensitively with those concerned and encouraging them to talk. The Moon's awkward tie to sobering Saturn, can reveal this may not be easy at first, but given time, the conversation can begin to flow.

Gemini 22 May – 21 June

The way cosmic forces are aligned hints that decisions made over coming days could impact your resources. It all depends on whether you have strong desires or needs or whether you can be detached. Even so, any issues that arise may also be linked to protecting something of value, and if it's important to you, then you could more easily rise to the occasion and do what's necessary.

Cancer 22 June – 23 July

With the inquisitive Mercury in your sign, it can seem that being open and honest may be the only way to sort something out. And as he also angles towards the electric Uranus, it could be so easy to say what you think, which will certainly send a clear message. Is this the best way forward? An understanding attitude might be more healing, if this concerns a good friend.

Leo 24 July – 23 August

It may be difficult to avoid certain emotions. And because of this, you might have less patience with current situations or even friends and loved ones. However, a release of tension is possible by reflecting on the deeper reason for the way you feel. Sensitive issues linked to past experiences may surface now, and acknowledging these first could allow for greater calm Leo.

Virgo 24 August – 23 September

With harmonious Venus in a spiritual sector, a decision to be true to yourself can feel so right. The planetary set-up suggests this may be a choice you come to yourself, as it may concern a deeply private matter. With lovely Venus angling towards restless Uranus, another's advice could tempt you away from this notion. Your horoscope suggests true friends will likely support you all the way though.

Libra 24 September – 23 October

An aspect involving cautious Saturn could see you locked into conversation with no certainty of an outcome. In fact, this discussion could continue over coming days, perhaps becoming more intense as the time goes by. But is there really any point in carrying on? If the issue involves being right, perhaps your energy could be used more productively for more important matters.

Scorpio 24 October – 22 November

The way you put your message across might make all the difference. Colleagues, friends or those in authority, could respect you more for speaking the truth, even if it's not what they want to hear. With thoughtful Mercury making a positive angle to uncompromising Uranus, your words may cause some disruption, but eventually this can balance out leaving you feeling relieved.

Sagittarius 23 November – 21 December

The idea of offloading some of the tasks you have been burdened with and doing your own thing, can be very appealing. As the restless vibe of Uranus moves deeper into your lifestyle zone, so you may want to change your routines to reflect a growing desire for more freedom. Activities that you once enjoyed may lose their sparkle, and if so, this can be the time to make savvy adjustments.

Capricorn 22 December – 20 January

Tempting though it may be to get involved in a scheme, it might be wise to bypass this offer. This could be one of those times when you could make an impulsive move if it allows for swift progress. And although this plan may have its good points, these might not be enough to make it worthwhile. Think very carefully about this, as you could lose more than you gain Capricorn.

Aquarius 21 January – 19 February

With sultry Venus in your sector of relating, the stellar backdrop can encourage you to put others ahead of your own needs. This may sound great in theory, but in practice, it might not work so well for you. And this may be due to an awkward tie with unpredictable Uranus, which could see you looking for excitement. Even within the family, the desire for independence can be strong.

Pisces 20 February – 20 March

If you need to change your schedule in any way because you are feeling tired, or don't have time for the things you really enjoy, then the coming days can see you making a start. You may need to be strong when it comes to certain activities that you have become very comfortable with. They may be the ones that keep you in a rut, so releasing them might not be so easy Pisces.
