Horoscopes Thursday 22nd September 2016

Aries 21 March – 20 April

As the Sun dances into Libra from today, it connects with Jupiter, the planet of expansion and good fortune. This suggests that golden opportunities and successful outcomes may be more likely when you liaise with others and are willing to compromise. It's also possible you'll connect with a group or person who you feel at ease with and you can jointly flourish.

Taurus 21 April – 21 May

With the focus on your sector of creativity and self-expression over recent weeks, your confidence may have increased. This might stand you in good stead as the Sun eases into your work and lifestyle zone from today. For this and other reasons, you may be tempted to take up an offer that could expand your horizons – ones which give you plenty to feel good about.

Gemini 22 May – 21 June

Mercury, your ruler, dances forward from today in your domestic sector, so life at home may be less prone to mix-ups. Its ongoing and penetrative link with Pluto suggests the information you need to make a key decision beckons. While the Sun's move into your leisure zone can see you taking stock and considering how to make best use of any available spare time.

Cancer 22 June – 23 July

If administrative problems have caused delays these can now slowly melt away, as the planet of talk and thought moves forward from today. Even so, it is still part of a powerful alignment that can encourage intense conversation. The difference now is that a key issue can begin to show promise, even if after recent events you've felt disinclined to do so, Cancer.

Leo 24 July – 23 August

As the Sun moves into your communication zone, consider taking more time for socialising, travelling and mingling. With Jupiter already in this sector, you may be motivated to study in order to improve your chances of success in a key area. On another note, if financial delays have been an issue, this can change for the better over the coming week or so.

Virgo 24 August – 23 September

As Mercury, your ruler, pushes forward from today you can begin to feel more relaxed about a key issue decision. Although the intensity of the situation could still push you to explore various options, your instincts will alert you to the deeper knowledge that you need to help you to get this sorted out. Your horoscope suggests once that homework is done, you can really then relax, Virgo.

Libra 24 September – 23 October

The Sun's entry into your sign and its upbeat alignment with Jupiter can trigger some brighter new beginnings. You may find that any doubts about a plan or even a relationship will soon melt away as any positive news outweighs recent frustrations. Mind, the Moon's connection to Saturn can encourage you to restrain your feelings in order not to appear too eager.

Scorpio 24 October – 22 November

The Sun's move into a secluded area of your chart might make it easier to connect with your emotions. If you've been hiding certain feelings from yourself, you could become more aware of them over coming weeks, and of what you can do about them. If a group project or event has been delayed, it might now begin to look much more promising for you, Scorpio.

Sagittarius 23 November – 21 December

If you've been hard at work over recent weeks or concerned about your career, goals or ambitions, then you could begin to relax from today, as the Sun glides into your social sector and joins Jupiter, your ruler. This can help you to realise how much you've missed spending time in good company. Your horoscope hints that one urgent issue may still need to be addressed, however.

Capricorn 22 December – 20 January

You could begin to feel quite upbeat about your plans for the future and more confident about handling challenges or playing a bigger role on the stage of life. There may be one question that's consuming your attention and has been for some time. With Mercury pushing forward from today, a new understanding may develop that will help ease any concerns.

Aquarius 21 January – 19 February

You may begin to feel a sense of freedom from responsibilities or tasks that have taken up a lot of time and energy over recent weeks. There may be one last thing you need to tackle before you can relax. If you know what it is Aquarius, then why not knuckle down and get it out of the way? Why? Well, once you do, you'll be ready to embrace fresh opportunities.

Pisces 20 February – 20 March

There may have been misunderstandings recently which have been exacerbated by discussions concerning a project or event. If you have found yourself going around in ever decreasing circles regarding this, things could begin to come together over the next week or so. Whatever or whoever has held you back may no longer be an issue, and allow you more leeway.
