Lee Harris gives his energy update for January 2021, a time period for the birth of new energy on the planet.

Lee Harris: A few of the themes we're going to look at for January and the New Year are:

- The beginning birthing period of the new energy that we are moving into as a world;
- How creative endeavors are going to be a huge theme for you and for all of us in the coming years;
- How the chaos that is going on in the outside world is adding to and creating this transformational shift that we are now witnessing
