

Mercury Stations Direct 15th May + Zodiac Forecasts. What does this REALLY MEAN?

Mercury ends its Retrograde which began on the 21st of April, on Monday 15th May.

- Does this mean that everything will flow perfectly from now around every day communications, technology and travel?
- Well, perhaps, but with the Moon and Neptune in a hyper sensitive combination the potential for information and messages to be distorted remains high.
- Also the Event Chart Shows a clash between the Ascendant in Aries, the Sun/Moon Midpoint and Jupiter, with Mars and Pluto. This combination can lead to rash moves just when we need to be more considered.
- To find out more about all this and when Mercury will eventually emerge from Shadow on the 31st May.
