

5D Ascension Timeline: How Much Longer Do We have Left?

People often ask me, “How much time do you think we have left before the 5D Ascension completes?” The answer is... “not long!” It’s impossible to say for sure, but with each passing day, if you’re feeling through into the wider field, the sense is it’s getting ever closer. The video I’m sharing at the bottom lays out a very precise timescale based on solid, researched scientific evidence – I encourage all to watch. And then consider: what would be the wisest approach to it?

Imminent Arrival of the Galactic Superwave

When I incarnated, I saw dramatic visions of what the world is coming to within the shift: The Earth cleansed in a ball of fire, dramatic 3D upheaval, and souls emerging out into 5D. Now let me be clear, I don’t especially believe in prophecy, but most definitely a true visionary, who reading the energy flow, can see “Future landing Now”.

What do I mean?

Consider that it's been around 12,000 years since the last convergence of galactic, solar and earth pole shift cycles. We are far less than 1% away from that completion. My sense is about 0.01 percent – about 12 years before the proverbial sh really hits the fan. In which case, if you imagine someone taking a step, their foot is almost already on the ground. And that's why if you're really tuned in to what's actually taking place in the galactic energy field, you can “predict”, more or less, what's going to happen. You can see future landing now.

My sense is that we have until 2050 until this 3D destruction cycle completes. But that doesn't mean everything will be calm and hunky-dory until that point. Far from it. There are phases to the unwinding and the correspondent 5D shift – an event line. Right now we're moving into the depths of a Grand Solar Minimum, plus the emergence of a new solar sunspot activity cycle, and at a time where Gaia is lowering her magnetic shield.

Meaning: we are right in the cross-hairs of a possible solar sunspot “kill shot” which would take out the entire electricity grid and project humanity right back to the stone age.

Two Sides to the 3D/5D Coin

After the solar coronal mass ejections kick in again, other cycles converge that will dramatically escalate the effect, all pointing towards the conclusion of the Solar Nova “Event”, with the arrival of the Galactic Superwave, which the Hopi Elders called the “Blue Star Kachina” – the 9th final sign before what they termed, “The Great Purification”. The Galactic Superwave (that has been well researched and documented but covered up by the shadow-state...see Dr. Paul Laviolet), which blankets the sun in 3 days of darkness (as the ancients recorded and predicted), then agitates the sun taking it into the Solar Nova Event. This could well be the trigger for the sudden final “flip-flop” of the earth’s magnetic field, which would unleash catastrophic tsunamis, earthquakes, volcanoes, storms, and floods. This will be the great cleansing of the 3D. It’s happened many times before, The Atlantean ‘Mythology’ for example. My personal feeling sense (that happened in the crash), was that it will be somewhat more complete this time – I don’t see any sophisticated life surviving in the 3D.

BUT, take a deep breath and remember...

There are two sides to this 3D/5D coin. For a new reality to be created, with a new harmony and higher vibrational configuration, the old one has to break down – like the caterpillar going through the chrysalis metamorphosis stage. For those truly tuned into the shift, and embodied as an integrated soul, then many wills by then know how to conduct “Maya Samadhi” – you leave the body at will when the soul knows your journey is complete, just as the masters like Paramahansa Yogananda and others have revealed to humanity. When the “wave” comes, in whatever form that is, and your journey is complete, the soul will know. And providing you’re able to let go of investment in the 3D, then you’ll move on. Personally, I have already witnessed this happening in some people who pass on – it is absolutely beautiful to witness. A relief and ecstatic return to a deeper actualization with the source. It’s a homecoming. The 5D butterfly emerges from the crystallization!

World Ascension into 5D

In conclusion, I would encourage all to watch the video below. Amongst all the purposeful mindless distraction and disinformation out there right now, this is highly revelatory and based on solid science. It also happens to concur very accurately with the visions I saw when I incarnated. It’s what the shadow-state DON’T want you to know! Remember, there are two sides to this coin:

What will you focus on? What will you choose?

Here’s the 3D vision. The 5D will emerge spectacularly out of this...

Finally, the Openhand work has been specially crafted to meet these tremendous times of opportunity through evolutionary transmutation into your 5D Being. If you resonate with my sharing, including and especially if you're in some fear about what might happen, come and explore the immaculate 5D side of the coin...
