

BIAS: The Perhaps Unseen Persuasions of Your Personal Perceptions

Perceptions can also come from the expectations we either knowingly or unknowingly place on others or onto relationships we have with others. When we believe that A is true, when in fact B is true, we might get weird looks from our friend if we are saying otherwise.