

COVID Shots Could Cause 'Crippling' Neurodegenerative Disease in Young People, MIT Scientist Warns

Stephanie Seneff, Ph.D., a senior research scientist at MIT Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence Laboratory, told Fox News vaccinating young people for COVID may cause serious neurodegenerative diseases, such as Parkinson's and Alzheimer's. #vaccinedangers