

Blueberries and Green Beans Join EWG's 'Dirty Dozen' List of Pesticide-Drenched Produce

New dirty dozen foods: Both blueberries and green beans – 11th and 12th, respectively, on this year's Dirty Dozen – had troubling concentrations of organophosphate insecticides, pesticides that can harm the human nervous system.