

Earth's Atmospheric CO2 Soars to Highest Level in 4 Million Years

New data released Monday showed atmospheric carbon dioxide reached a monthly average of 419 parts per million in May, the maximum reading ever recorded since measurements began 63 years ago and the highest level the planet has experienced in more than 4 million years. #co2levels