

Morning Inspiration: How To Live Out Your Time (Motivational Video with Les Brown)

We live very short life spans relative to the age of the universe. Hence, we should try and find our purpose and then live it out to the best of our abilities. Step outside yourself, loosen any fears and go after your dreams.

“When you step into your fears and continue to push yourself to go on, something happens for you. It will enable you to transcend yourself.” Les Brown