

How Laughter Improves Your Memory

A recent study of people with diabetes found that laughter could reduce age-related memory loss. The study subjects also showed lower levels of cortisol, a stress hormone known to negatively impact brain neurons, after watching the video