

Police Officer Skates With Youth While On Patrol For An Inspiring Reason

According to the Bellevue police officer Craig Hanaumi, skateboarding and practicing martial arts with the kids is an essential part of his job, as it's important to forge positive relationships between law enforcement and community members. Plus, it allows him to interact with individuals he wouldn't normally meet or converse with.