

Australian Solar Power Researchers Achieve 40% Efficiency Mark

Australian solar power researchers have achieved world-beating levels of efficiency, potentially making large solar plants more competitive with other energy sources such as coal.