

UN Report Condemns US for 'Deliberately' Creating Devastating Wealth Inequality

With millions of Americans already on the brink of deep poverty, Philip Alston, U.N. Special Rapporteur on Extreme Poverty and Human Rights and author of the new report, warned that Trump's tax law, deregulatory agenda, and welfare cuts are driving the poor closer to complete "ruination," which the U.N. official defines as "severe deprivation of food and almost no access to healthcare."
