

Water Rights March in Detroit

Last Friday thousands of people marched through downtown Detroit to call attention to City Hall shutting off the water for residents behind on their bills. Meanwhile, General Motors and the city's two sports arenas, which owe millions in unpaid water bills, have not had their water turned off.