

The “As-If” Approach to Authentic Manifesting

So often we curse the Universe, Source, God...(whichever label is most comfortable for you) for not delivering our wishes, answering our prayers...etc. but if we really step back and think about it, we are always given exactly what we BELIEVE. We can put out that we want this or that, but if we have a limited belief on what this or that looks like or are very limited on how we will allow it to come to us, then we are literally closing off ways for the Universe to deliver it to us.
