

The COVID Vaccine: Simple Facts Staring Us in the Face

Public health agencies readily admit that people with weakened immune systems should not be vaccinated. But the language they use is dodgy and incomplete. The CDC states: "A vaccine should not be administered when a contraindication is present; for example, MMR vaccine should not be administered to severely immunocompromised persons...Severely immunocompromised persons generally should not receive live vaccines..."