In a historic interview for The HighWire, host Del Bigtree sits down with Vaccinologist, Geert Vanden Bossche, Ph.D., D.V.M., to hear Geert's dire warning about mass Covid vaccination of children, and the catastrophe which may follow. Geert also explains the difference between natural immunity and innate immunity. And he says if vaccines were never used against Covid, that the virus would have been under control by now due to herd immunity. As it is now, the vaccines and the boosters breed variants. Geert warned the world back in early March 2021 that this would happen, but he was ignored (see the clip at the beginning of this incredibly important video).
