

Weekly Horoscopes 27th June 2016

A quite beautiful liasion between Venus and Neptune creates the astral environment for true love to flourish. Of course we have to be lucky enough to be face to face with someone we can chime like this with, and some people will be. Equally if we meet anyone new we mustn't be too quick to put them on a pedastal. For your FREE Weekly Horoscope 27th June 2016 please see below...

Weekly Horoscopes

Aries 21 March – 20 April

Your business prospects look particularly favourable this week, and especially if you can be more imaginative or original in your approach. Yet the potential for tension in family life is rather strong. Someone close to you may make heavy demands and you can find yourself feeling compromised by these. Still, your ruler does now go forwards, and energy can increase.

Taurus 21 April – 21 May

Mercury speeds into the most sparkling part of your horoscope Taurus, joining up with both the Sun and Venus. With Mars also going forwards in your sector of relating, a better flow of energy is possible. Mind, someone you encounter may promise more than they can realistically deliver. Stay attuned to what their true motives might be to handle this.

Gemini 22 May – 21 June

A financial offer can be made to you this week, and it could prove to be very tempting. Then again you can be drawn to someone with an almost magnetic presence. In both instances good things are possible, but equally be sure that you're not being attracted to something that actually is not very good for you. Any charitable deeds will be well received, though.

Cancer 22 June – 23 July

The arrival of Mercury in your sign this week can see you switch from research and reflection mode into action when it comes to your key ideas. With Mars also turning direct in your sector of personal expression, this can be your opportunity to galvanise yourself into action and to impress people with your bold moves. An exotic destination may also intrigue you.

Leo 24 July – 23 August

Is someone's smouldering look for real or are they a little bit of a flirt? There can certainly be an air of mystery around one encounter this week. And in the first few days, there may be a part of you that wants to follow up any such inquisitiveness that you feel to the full. Of course, being guided by your hunches is key, and some genuine magic is possible, Leo.

Virgo 24 August – 23 September

Your guide planet Mercury travels into a new zone, which can help to increase your appreciation of all things social and fun. With Venus also in opposition to Pluto all week, you can think carefully about the level of sociability and fun that exists in any existing romantic tie. Solo? Someone in your group of friends can take on an even more intriguing dimension.

Libra 24 September – 23 October

Your guide planet Venus is enormously influential this week, and the quality of your relationships in a professional or work situation or role which requires you to demonstrate both sensitivity and understanding of human nature, can really see you flourish. Your financial situation can also seem less frustrating from midweek, as Mars moves forwards.

Scorpio 24 October – 22 November

There may have been a sense over the last month or so that however much you've tried to drive a key strand forwards, nothing has quite gone to plan, as you hope. Things can seem less frustrating from now, and you're being asked to look beyond your normal everyday patterns routines and confines, and at new and perhaps experimental possibilities.

Sagittarius 23 November – 21 December

During the last month your moods may be much more variable than you're used to. It's possible that something that you're not fully conscious of about your needs or emotional history has still been resonating deep within you. Therefore, if you should find yourself compelled towards a person or item, try to work out what's really driving this at a deeper level.

Capricorn 22 December – 20 January

Even though the Sun and Venus have recently been bringing about the potential for improved relationships, Mercury has remained in a more brittle location. That changes this week and the lines of communication can really open up. Your horoscope suggests you may find yourself connecting better to someone who you admire for their knowledge, or who is action orientated.

Aquarius 21 January – 19 February

Someone may ask you to do them some kind of good deed. And they may lay on lashings of charm or some other incentive in order to do their bidding. There's every chance that they're being sincere, and some genuine exchanges and generosity can be the highlight of this week. Equally, someone else could be a little bit sly, so stay alert to handle this potential.

Pisces 20 February – 20 March

There is going to be one friend, associate or group of people that you can really bond with in a significant way this week, but there is probably some kind of higher calling that draws you altogether. You may also find yourself being exceptionally idealistic, and the chances of enjoying heart warming and even flirty conversations is extraordinarily high. Enjoy the moment.
