What are Tarot cards?

Tarot reading is a method of predicting the future using tarot cards. According to historical records tarot cards originated in Northern Italy in the late 14th century. They were initially used to play card games called "tarocchi" among the rich and affluent people. For many years, it became popular across Europe as a simple card game. Only in the late 18th century, due to their so-called mystical nature, these cards became popular and tarot card reading came into effect.

Tarot card decks of today consist of 78 cards that are divided into 22 Major Arcana (arcana means secret) and 56 Minor Arcana. These 78 cards are divided into four suits; Cups, Pentacles, Wands, And Swords. Each suite has four court cards, one ace, and nine pip cards. This division of tarot cards is in fact very similar to the modern-day cards, that we see today.

Each of these 78 tarot cards has its own images and symbols which are used for future predictions. Sixteen of the minor arcana cards represent sixteen different human personality characteristics whereas the four suits with ten cards each represent situations we tend to encounter in our daily lives.

Reading tarot cards actually tells you what can happen in the future, based on what you are doing at the present moment. It can tell you about the reasons behind the present situation and suggest the steps to take so that you may ensure whatever happens in your future is in your favor.

For example, suppose the tarot predicts that you will get a promotion soon. Seeing that you stop bothering to do your work properly and even start going to work late.
