Steph Curry, NBA MVP for two seasons running, speaks about having the faith to step out and accomplish the goals you set out for yourself. In this speech he gave after winning the MVP 2014-2015, he mentions having the faith, passion and the drive to succeed.

“Part of that is having the will to succeed, knowing that you put the work in and you have the confidence to let it show. (What I tell people is) Just be the best version of yourself in anything that you do. You don't have to live anybody else's story. Sometimes people make it seem like you have to have certain prerequisites or a crazy life story in order to be successful in this world but the truth is you really don't. It doesn't matter, where you come from, what you have or don't have, what you lack, what you have too much of, but all you need to have is faith in God, an undying passion for what you do or what you choose to do in this life and a relentless drive and the will to do whatever it takes to be successful and whatever you put your mind to.”
